SOCIAL MATTERS. What Fashionable People are Doing-Personal Mention.

A number of dinner parties and race suppers were merged into the concert given by Mile. Nogueiras last evening at the residence of Mrs. Richard Wallach. Over a hundred ladies and men assembled in the fine ball-room, and many of them were in evening toilets, giving the company a gay appearance, and recalling the past season, that in the present paucity of social events seems so distant. Mile. No-gueiras' program was a most attractive one. Mile. Nogueiras wore a becoming toilet of lavendar satin with insertions of white lace and some diamond ornaments. She was enthusiastically received by her audience. Others who took part were Mr. Galvan, Mr. Morelos, Miss Hunt and Mr. Nyman. Mrs. Wallach issued no invitations for the concert; she only gave the use of her rooms. After the concert many lingered for a chat, and altogether the evening was a most agreeable diversion. Among those present were Judge John Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carroll, Col. Bliss, the Misses Myer, Mr. Lee Phillips, Mr. Richard Wallach, the Misses Wallach, Mr. John F. Rodgers, Mr. Edward Macauly, Miss Mullan, Miss Julie Edic, Miss Wilcox, Mr. Jesse Brown, Miss Heath, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Halliday, and Mrs. A. A. Pollok and a company of their guests.

A number of students from the Columbia college, of New York city, are coming here to give an entertainment on the night of Satur-day, the 11th instant, for the benefit of the Hospital for Incurables. Many society people are interested in its success. The managers of the Children's Country home give their entertainment, "Illustrated Songs," at Willard hall to-night under the Songs," at Willard hall to-night under patronage of a score of prominent ladies. The Misses Myer have organized their tennis club for the season, in which only their young girl friends play. The court is in the beauti-ful grounds of their own home on I street.

Mr. and Mrs. James Luckett have returned from their extended travels in Europe, in the far west and the south, and are locating themselves permanently in their own house, No. 1776 Massachusetts avenue. It is the house that Mrs. Cheatham, Mrs. Luckett's mother, built for her daughter two years ago, and is a most carefully and well-designed residence, Mr. Claude Acklen is with his sister in this city, and Mr. William Acklen, who is at present with friends in Baltimore, will sail for Europe the middle of this month.

The Literary society will hold its regular meeting to-night at Prof. Gallaudet's residence.

Dr. and Mrs. N. S. Lincoln entertained a night. Covers were laid for twelve. The guests were Col. and Mrs. William Winthrop, Gen.and Mrs. Batchellor, Secretary Proctor, Mrs. Wallach, Mr. and Mrs. Hornsby, and Gen. and Mrs. Wilcox, of the Soldier's Home.

Mrs. Laughton and Mr. Wm. A. Shepard also entertained friends at dinner on Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Williams, who spend their winters at 1301 18th street, will return to their summer home in New London the middle of this month. Miss May Williams accompanies her parents. Wednesday of next week will be presentation day at Kendall Green college. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. M. Ffoulke, who have been absent in New York and Philadelphia during the past week, returned to the city yesterday. Mr. Ffoulke sails for Europe next Mrs. Juliette Norton entertained a company of young ladies at luncheon to-day. Among them were Miss Caroline Parker, Miss Casey, Miss Emily Carr and Miss Williamson. Mrs. Randolph Tucker is in the city, at the Clarendon, where she will remain until June,

The Unfit Police Court Building. In compliance with the request of Judge Miller, Health Officer Townshend has made another inspection of the Police Court building and reported that: "It is in an insanitary condition, as it has been for years, the defects consisting in ill-ventilation, poor plumbing work, defective sewerage and dampness. Instead of going into details, I inclose you a copy of my letter to the Commissioners of July 24. 1883, and would say that I find no reason to change my opinion as to existing conditions as compared with the statement given at that time."

CRITICISING THE COURT. What Army Officers Say About the Lydecker Case.

The news of the findings and sentence of the Lydecker court-martial surprised army officers. Almost without exception the opinion was expressed, or covertly implied, to-day that the court had gone out of its way to acquit the major, practically, after pronouncing him guilty. The imposition of a fine rather hurts the pride of service men, who think that if the accused was guilty company at a beautiful dinner on Thursday to merit a punishment more dignified, more in keeping with the honor of the army, than that at all of neglect of duty he was sufficiently so which was given him. At the same time one officer remarked: "I am not surprised, for I have educated myself up to the point of never being surprised at the findings of a court-martial."

GEN. BUTLER'S SPEECH.

Admiral Porter Says there Was One Coward, but Will not Give His Name

In his Boston speech Wednesday Gen. Butler, in eulogising Farragut at New Orleans, spoke of "His brave officers, all save one, a high officer, who ran away." The attention of Admiral Porter was called to Gen. Butler's speech yesterday. The admiral said:

"There were three officers who failed to take their ships past the fort, who were censured by Farragut in general orders. One of the three, a commander, undoubtedly did behave badly and ran away. The others were not properly censurable, and were exonerated by Farragut when he understood the circumstances. I will not give you the name of the officer who ran away. I have no doubt Gen. Butler means the same man I do. I never could account for that naval commander's conduct. Established twenty-three years. This business has a large town and country trade, conducted on a cash busis, and is in prosperous running order. I will sell the stock at cost, which, with the Good Will, is a rare cliance to embark in business. We will also lease the property, which we own, as long as wanted.
